

BIG TREE YIELDED TO AGE

Chestnut in Which Washington is Said to Have Hidden Collapses at Yonkers, New York.

Maybe there's no truth in the tradition that George Washington once hid in the hollow trunk of the great chestnut tree that until recently stood in the front yard of Charles F. Coy, Yonkers, New York. But folk there believe he did, just as they believe that the tree was 700 or 800 years old when it died a few years ago, and was the oldest and biggest tree of any variety not only in Westchester county but in New York state.

The trunk, which was about 35 feet tall and about 35 feet in circumference, according to Mr. Coy, was cut down by the department of public works of Yonkers, and its dismembered remains carted away. Said Mr. Coy:

"Before it died that tree produced the biggest and sweetest-tasting chestnuts I ever saw. After its death a vine that covered it made it still an object of beauty, just as its vast size and age made it an object of admiration.

"The top was broken off about the time it died. I never knew its exact height. But I do know that a deal of tradition had grown up around it and that it commonly was rated the largest tree in this part of the country. I am sure it was the biggest in this county."

TO DESTROY INSECT PESTS

Two Forms of Insecticides Necessary for Successful Protection of Plants and Foliage.

Do not waste your time spraying plants green on insects that suck the juices from plants and foliage, such as lice, green, black and white aphids or fly, mealy bug, red spider and scale, by thrusting their proboscis into the leaf or stem, for they are not affected by stomach poisons. They must be destroyed by contact insecticides. Those in powder form kill by closing the breathing pores in the insect's skin, or in fluid form by being absorbed through these pores. The American Forestry Magazine points out. The best contact insecticides in powder form are helioth, slug shot and tobacco dust. The best in fluid form are aphine, black leaf 40, fish (whale) oil soap, nicotine (tobacco extract), kerosene, miscible oil and lemon oil.

Insects that eat plants, foliage, vegetables, fruits, flowers, etc., whether bugs, beetles, worms, caterpillars or slugs are more quickly and effectually destroyed with a poisonous stomachic insecticide such as arsenate of lead, paris green or helioth. These, if applied according to directions, are so diluted as to be harmless to vegetation and to animal life. Less poisonous stomachic and contact insecticides are kerosene emulsion, slug shot, etc.

Boy "Policeman" Gets Results.

Bill Zerbe, formerly of Indianapolis, is motorcycle policeman in the Logansport police department. Both the young and old know Bill because of his record as a tamer of speeders.

A few days ago the driver of an automobile permitted the motor of his machine to run while he went into a store. When he came out he found a piece of paper in the front seat of the car. On the paper were these words: "You are pinched for permitting the engine of your machine to run over 15 minutes. Bill Zerbe."

The driver of the car went to police headquarters to pay his fine and exhibit the evidence that he had been caught. On being assured that the paper presented had not been prepared by Zerbe, the driver of the machine recalled that he had seen a small boy with a broad grin on his face standing near when he started toward the police station.—Indianapolis News.

Electricity to Locate Metal.

The idea of using current transmitted through the earth as a means of locating metal ores is familiar, the belief being that the greater conductivity of these metalliferous regions can be clearly indicated, and the area mapped out, says the Scientific American. The location of oil deposits, which according to the Electrical Review is now being investigated electrically, presents a converse problem. In this case the insulating properties of the oil diminish the current, and oil-bearing regions are detected accordingly. In view of the great depth to which it is often necessary to bore for oil—that only exists simultaneously with an almost oil-free area above—the method would seem to have limitations, but it has doubtless possibilities in dealing with surface oil areas.

That Decided Him.

George was in a despondent mood. "But, Mabel, dear," he said, "marriage is out of the question just now. You seem to have forgotten that I'm a poor clerk on a meager salary."

"Oh, George, don't let poverty interfere with our happiness. We can live on one meal a day, if necessary."

"But you know nothing of household duties, sweetheart. Why, you can't even cook."

"Indeed, I can, love. I have kept it secret from you but the time has come for my confession. George, dear, I got a certificate from a domestic science school three months ago."

The young man gasped. "My darling," he said, "come to my arms. It shall be as you wish—one meal a day will be more than enough."

PAIGE

The Most Beautiful Car in America

More Than Par Value

At the new price of $1635 the five-passenger "Glenbrook" gives you gratifying evidence of how far your dollar can go today.

Here is a brand new product—not an old model carried over as a 1921 motor car. And it is a sound, practical investment because with the Paige first cost is last cost.

The "Glenbrook" is endowed with the thrift idea. It has respect for your pocket book when it comes to gasoline, tire mileage and repair bills. And as for performance—

Imagine a motor that accelerates from five to twenty-five miles an hour in nine seconds flat! Then you will have a new vision of what to expect when you sit behind the wheel of the "Glenbrook" and accept any challenge of the road.

DILLON, S. C.

We are now building a sweet potato house capable of curing and storing 15,000 bushels potatoes. We believe we are going to have the best curing house in South Carolina. We have contracted to buy 10,000 crates in which to cure the potatoes. Dr. Wade Stackhouse is building this house at his own expense. Our storage charges will be uniform with that of other Government houses in this section.

We renew our offer to buy No. 1 and 2 Porto Rica potatoes at 50 cents per bushel f. o. b. our house. We ask our friends to grow plenty of potatoes to fill the house. While many patches of potatoes are very grassy, they can be worked out and made to yield from 100 to 200 bushels per acre yet. Last year's crop netted $1.25 per bushel to the growers f. o. b. cars at the curing houses.

We plan some improvements at the mill which will guarantee a good cash market for any product raised on a farm. We hope to have this department in full operation in time to take care of this grain crop.

We buy and sell Fulghum Seed Oats. Bring us a sample of your seed oats and we will name you a cash price.

We buy and sell Abruzzi Rye. If you have any for sale let us have a sample.

Tear off the blindfold of extravagance if you are wearing one. You can never see financial daylight until you do. Extravagance is ignorance; ignorance is a crime to yourself and to your family. If you earn $10,000 a year and spend it all you will never get ahead. If you earn $1.00 and bank a part of it you will prosper. That's arithmetic. Try it. We invite your banking business.
